

Turkish Respiratory Journal is an official publication of Turkish Thoracic Society in English. The Journal aims to promote scientific eminence in clinical pulmonary medicine and related fields, and provides a forum for distribution of scientific information. The Journal thus publishes original investigations, reviews, case reports, and letters.

The Journal complies with the guidelines issued by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE), and invites the authors to follow these instructions (Uniform requirements for manuscripts submitted to biomedical journals. JAMA, 1997;277:927-934 or N Engl J Med 1997;336:309-315). The authorship responsibility is also outlined in these guidelines. Submission by authors of articles and all kinds of correspondence to the Journal is received with the understanding that all or any part of the work has not been and will not be published elsewhere. Previous publication of the related material in an abstract form less than 400 words are acceptable, and should be indicated in the title page. Authors have the responsibility for the language of the articles.

The manuscripts should be submitted to "Toraks Derneği, Turkish Respiratory Journal Editörlüğü, Ege Üniversitesi Tıp Fakültesi Göğüs Hastalıkları AD 35 100 Bornova, İzmir, Turkey". The manuscripts and all types of correspondence should be submitted as one original typescript and four high quality duplicate copies including the text, tables, figures and photographs. A 3.5- inch floppy disk or CD including all parts of the submitted manuscript (except the photographs) is required. The files should have the format of Microsoft Word for Windows. The file name(s) as well as software name/version should be indicated on the label of the floppy disk or CD. All manuscripts and other correspondence are subject to editorial review. The editor reserves the right to reject or return the submitted material to the corresponding author if the requirements are not uniformly completed. The editorial board reserves the right to ask for and evaluate the data reported in the submitted manuscript. One copy of the manuscript and figures will be returned to the corresponding author if it is not accepted for publication.

TRANSFERS OF AUTHOR COPYRIGHTS

Authors are kindly invited to send a signed copy of the copyright release form to Turkish Thoracic Society along with their manuscripts during submission. This form is printed at the end of this document and may be copied. Each author should sign this copyright release form, and the title of the manuscript as well as the date of signature should be included. Manuscripts without copyright release form will not be considered for publication. After transfer of the copyright and acceptance of the submitted work for publication, the manuscripts become the permanent property of the Journal. The related work may not be published elsewhere in whole or in part, without the written permission from the Journal.

ETHICS OF INVESTIGATIONS

Turkish Respiratory Journal requires the authors to specify whether ethical standards are met in their research. Manuscripts that do not properly comply with the ethical issues for humans or animals will not be considered for publication. Investigations performed on human subjects should have the prior approval of their institutional committee on human research. The authors of the manuscript should provide a declaration that informed consent was obtained from the subjects.

FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

Authors must also reveal any financial involvement in any organizations related to the subject reported in the manuscript. This disclosure should be printed on a separate page and signed by the authors.

MANUSCRIPT SECTION

All part of the manuscripts should be double-spaced on white bond paper (ISO A4- 212 x 297 mm) with margins of at least 25 mm. Only one side of the paper should be printed. Pages should be numbered consecutively beginning with the title page. Manuscripts on observational or experimental studies should include these sections in the order indicated: Title page, Abstract, Key Words, Introduction, Material and Methods, Results, Discussion, Acknowledgements and References. Tables and Figure legends should follow the manuscript text, and will be numbered consecutively. Each section (tables, figure legends, etc) should begin on a separate page. Case reports should consist of the following sections: Introduction, Case Report, Discussion and Conclusion.

TITLE PAGE

The title page should include the title of the study, the author(s)' names, their academic or professional affiliations, and the name and address for every author. The authors may consult the Medical Subject Headings, published by the National Library of Medicine, available online at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/mesh/meshhome.html>

ABSTRACT

A structured abstract for original investigations should be organized to include the following subtitles in the same order: 1) Study objectives; 2) Design; 3) Setting; 4) Patients or Materials; 5) Intervention(s); 6) Measurements and Results; 7) Conclusions. Each subtitle should begin as a separate line. The abstract should not exceed 250 words. Abstracts for case reports and articles that are not investigational should be limited to no more than 100 words and may be in summary form (unstructured). At least three key words should be provided at the end of the abstract.

ABBREVIATIONS

All abbreviations used in the manuscript should be clearly defined on a separate sheet. Each abbreviation should be written in full definition in the manuscript at its first mention, and noted in parenthesis after the full word(s).

REFERENCES

References should be numbered consecutively by Arabic numerals in parentheses in the order they are first cited in the manuscript. The references used only in tables or figure legends should be numbered in accordance with the order the particular table or figure cited in the text. The references should appear in a separate sheet in the same order of numerical citations in the manuscript. All authors will be listed when there are less than or equal to three. If there are more than three authors, the first three authors will be cited followed by "et al". References from non-English journals should be translated into English. The journal titles of references should be abbreviated as shown in Index Medicus. Examples of references are as follows:

1. Fergusson DM, Crane J, Beasley R, et al. Perinatal factors and atopic disease in childhood. Clin Exp Allergy 1997;27:1394-401.
